How to Use This Catalog

The OCEC Catalog is arranged for the convenience of the users according to graded, core, and supplemental materials and purposes. You will note while looking through the catalog that “Teacher Aides,” graded materials, “Pamphlets,” and “Supplements/Home Materials” are listed separately. The graded materials are listed for the suggested grade use. You may, however, decide to use them above or below their suggested level. Only you can make this decision because only you know the children with whom you will be working. Within each grade, the core curriculum or the “must have” materials are described first and supplementary materials are listed thereafter. In every case we have listed whether an item is for the student or for the teacher.

Please note: for Senior High and Adult use we have designated in several cases the same materials and programs. These are designated as Programs followed by a letter (e.g. Program A). If you need help working with this catalog or with the OCEC curriculum, please call the sales office and we will do our best to help you.

Orders may be mailed or placed by telephone with our sales office in Syracuse, NY. Please call 1-800-464-2744 or 315-428-1566 between 2 and 7 pm (eastern time), Monday through Friday.

About the OCEC

The Orthodox Christian Education Commission (OCEC) was founded in 1957 by a group of Orthodox theologians and educators as a forum to exchange ideas and to search for solutions to common educational problems. The most important function of the OCEC is the development and production of a graded textbook series for church school use. It publishes materials for home and other uses. The OCEC offers training and workshops for Christian educators.

The OCEC textbooks present the teachings of the Orthodox Church incrementally. For greatest effectiveness, we encourage you not to “mix and match” items from other sources when using the OCEC graded texts.

This catalogue and order form are self-explanatory and are laid out in such a way as to enable you to see what is essential and what is supplementary to the basic resources. We are interested in your experiences with our materials. We would appreciate having your recommendations for making the texts more effective in any parish situation. We look forward to serving you and your parish in fulfilling the educational ministry of the Orthodox Church. For more information about the OCEC, visit our website www.orthodoxchristianed.com

Coordinating a Program for the Size of Your School

Not all churches have enough children to allow for separate grades in the church school. Several grades must be combined together in the same classroom. The open classroom concept is hardly new and has been developed in the public schools for years. It helps for us to think of those small schools as a small family living and learning about God together.

A basic lesson can be taught to the whole group, and then children divide up into small groups or individually, according to age, work abilities, and interests. Projects all play a great part in such situations, and these activities must be worked out in advance and student-initiated. Older students need more challenge to understand and study the theme or concepts on their own level, at their own speed. Younger students need more teacher guidance and involvement.

Here a few ways to organize this using the OCEC materials.

One Classroom School

Although one class is possible, it is better to divide up into at least two groups for lessons. Where this is not possible, the home study book “Way of Life: Introducing Your child to the Orthodox Faith” can be used as an umbrella program for all ages. The material can be used as an umbrella program for all ages. The material can be divided to cover two years. The themes are the section headings from the book. The books in italics are OCEC manuals that can be used.

First year: Church—New Life in Jesus/New Life in the Church; Advent/Nativity—In the Beginning; Lent/Pascha—Making Things Right/Jesus, the Promise of God

Second year: Feast—Together with God; Home—The Wonder of it All/God, My Friends & Me; Major Saints—God Loves Us/Our Life in the Church

Note: In the following sections the first book mentioned should be used this year. Other books can be used in succeeding years. Pre-school children have such unique needs that no matter the number, they should be placed in a separate area, using Pre-school manuals.

Two Classroom School

1. Kindergarten–Second Grade

Use Together With God;
Then God Loves Us, New Life in Jesus/Making Things Right

2. Third–Sixth Grade

Use New Life in the Church;
Then Jesus, the Promise of God, Our Life in the Church, In the Beginning

Three Classroom School

1. Pre-School–First Grade

Use The Wonder of it All/God, My Friends, & Me; Then Together With God;
Then God Loves Us

2. Second–Third Grade

Use New Life in Jesus/Making Things Right;
Then New Life in the Church

3. Fourth–Sixth Grade

Use Jesus, The Promise of God;
Then Our Life in the Church, In the Beginning

Four Classroom School

1. Pre-School–First Grade

Use The Wonder of it All/God, My Friends, & Me; Then Together With God;
Then God Loves Us

2. Second–Third Grade

Use New Life in Jesus/Making Things Right;
Then New Life in the Church

3. Fourth–Sixth Grade

Use Jesus, The Promise of God;
Then Our Life in the Church

4. Sixth–Seventh Grade

Use In the Beginning;
Then Young Church

Teens—Separate programs and classes should be arranged. Where numbers are very low, youth could serve as junior teachers with responsibility of helping and mastering the content.

Total Parish Education

Curriculum for the Christian Home and Parish

The curriculum of the OCEC enables parishes to evaluate materials as well as the methods by which they are taught. It enables parishes in unique situations to develop their own curriculum. The Curriculum is outlined in the accompanying "Scope and Sequence" chart which shows which materials are taught in each grade level.

The goal of the OCEC curriculum essentially is preaching the Gospel and integrating the whole person into the life of the Church. This is summarized in our "Total Parish Education" approach to education for all age groups. All members of the parish are teachers and all are learners throughout all stages of life. No curriculum is perfect. All people learn differently and all materials can be organized in different ways.

The curriculum has a formal aspect which is listed in the table of contents: experience and explanation, cognition and affection, the theme, intentionality, graded materials, categories of planning and evaluation, curriculum content, teacher guides, adapting to a small church school, application to home use, and the curriculum in the day school.

Scope and Sequence Chart

The "Scope and Sequence" chart presents a synopsis of the OCEC curriculum under five major categories: Biblical, Church History and Tradition, Liturgical (under two sub-categories of Prayer, Worship & Sacrament), Doctrine, and Spiritual/Moral Development. It includes a section on the stages of faith and their application to Christian development in the home and church. It also describes the birth to toddler age (for which there is no formal curriculum) providing brief information and ideas for parents. This 24.75" by 19.75" chart can be mounted for display.

Orthodox Faith Volume I: Doctrine

152-page introduction to the major sources of Christian doctrine, step-by-step explanation of the Creed, and a chapter on the Holy Trinity. Includes a basic bibliography.

Orthodox Faith Volume II: Worship

200-page book explaining the basic cycles and services of worship in the Orthodox Church. Includes church building, vestments and symbols, the Sacraments, the daily cycle of worship, the church year with its fasts and feasts and the Divine Liturgy.

Orthodox Faith Volume III: Bible and Church History

234-page explanation of the contents and interpretation of the Bible; plus a basic historical presentation to the Church, emphasizing the main theological, liturgical, and spiritual developments of each century.

Orthodox Faith Volume IV: Spirituality

200-page introduction to the main themes of Christian life: prayer, fasting, repentance, the virtues, witness in the world, and communion with God. Contains an excellent chapter on Christian virtue as expressed in the Beatitudes.

Youth Dynamics (Tapes)

This 4-tape series, which includes extensive study guide, recommended activities, and films covers topics such as recruiting and training youth volunteers, activities for high school classes, an introduction to adolescents and how they grow and develop.

Our Church and Our Children

This re-release of a classic work by distinguished religious educator Sophie Koulomzin addresses the task of Christian education, the challenges and opportunities of the church school, and a vision for the Christian teacher. The contents of the book comprise a deep understanding of children, as wise appropriation of educational and developmental theory, a lived knowledge of the Orthodox faith tradition, and a keen sense of Orthodox church life in America. With a new Forward and Study Guide by Ann Mitsakos Bezzerides, it makes an excellent book for either group or personal study and is an indispensable resource for Christian educators.

Program A

Basic Manual — Grade 9

The Way, the Truth, and The Life

The Way, The Truth, and The Life, provides a basic understanding of our faith in lessons that both inform and inspire. In so doing, the program endeavors to plant the students firmly in the life-giving soil of Orthodox spiritual understanding and to guide them on the path to spiritual maturity. An optional award is offered for successful completion of four exams for which the students are adequately prepared.

The student book is organized in two parts. Part I offers 28 standard lessons. Part II offers the source sections: "Feast Days and Icons," "Briefs," "Saints," and "Glossary". The program is for high school students. [Please note: If your church school does not offer a high school program, you may use this with a separate eighth grade class; it is not appropriate for a 6th-7th-8th grade mixed class. (174 pages).

The Teacher book offers scripted lesson plans, handouts for prayers, visual aids, workshops, and excerpts from classic Orthodox authors as background reading for each lesson. The lesson plans are flexible and may be used with classes of 40-60 minute duration. A large three-ring binder will be needed for this manual. (390 pages).

Program B

Celebration: Feasts & Holy Days

Teacher's Guide: The goal of this instruction manual and its accompanying student book is the blending of Orthodox Christian instruction with the broader teaching tool — the liturgical cycle. It is presented to deepen student understanding and to reinforce the liturgical calendar, the sacraments, and the Orthodox Christian lifestyle. It follows the church year, beginning in September with the “Birth of the Theotokos” and the “Elevation of the Holy Cross” through “Transfiguration” in August. The manual sets forth materials and topics for teachers to follow. Its modular form can be broken down depending on teach and student needs.

Pupil's Manual: It also includes a cooperative learning component which is presented as an option within each lesson and makes this manual completely unique. The purpose of this approach is to increase learning by fostering cooperation within pairs and small groups and by teaching through well-orchestrated experiences. Strategies are fully described in the appendix of the Teacher's Manual.
